

Grad Write-ups for the 2011 Yearbook

It's that time again, time for grad write-ups. This year, you will type your own write-up and send it to Ms. Graves via email. (beverly.graves@nbed.nb.ca) The maximum number of characters is 600 – this includes all spaces and punctuation. You can check this in Microsoft Word by selecting your words and clicking on the 'words' button in the bottom left-hand corner.

In the past, some grads have had trouble thinking of what they should write and end up not writing anything at all. Below, we have listed some ideas to help you get your write-up done.

Some of the following may be helpful to get you started. You should write your paragraph in 'first person'. You are free to write about whatever you want, but keep in mind that each write-up will be edited for language and legal considerations.

Borrowed quotes from famous people in history add a nice touch (remember to reference the source).

Example: "All our dreams come true – if you have the courage to pursue them." – Walt Disney

You can use some of these to help you:

Congratulations to the class of 2011.

I would like to thank my family/friends for...

I won't forget...

My greatest achievement in high school was...

My future plans are...

I survived high school with the help of...

You can choose up to 3 categories from the following to be added to the end of your paragraph:

NN: Nick Name

ME: Memorable

GF: Greatest Fear

PP: Pet Peeve

Experience

SA: Student Activity (ies)

FL: First Love

LWT: Last Will &

PD: Probable Destination

Testament

The following is an example of a completed grad write-up:

Billy Joe Smith

"Live, love, laugh." – unknown

I want to say congrats to my fellow graduates. I can't believe we made it. I want to thank all my teachers and my family who have helped me to get through life and make it this far. I'll never forget the parties at the camp. Good luck to you all.
