Ethical Consumerism

Ethical consumerism is the purchase of products that are perceived by the consumer to be made in an ethical manner, usually in reference to the lack of exploitation of humans, animals and the environment.

It includes positive buying of products and boycotting products for negative reasons.

- local food
- free range and organic meat and eggs
- cage-free eggs
- vegetarianism
- avoidance of clothes and shoes made in sweatshops
- animal-free testing of cosmetics
- green construction
- hybrid vehicles
- biodegradable products
