

Tongue Twisters

A tongue twister is a sentence or series of words that is hard to say correctly. Once you have mastered a tongue twister, you can try to speed it up to make it even more challenging!

She sells sea shells by the sea shore. The shells she sells are surely seashells. So if she sells shells on the seashore, I'm sure she sells seashore shells.	Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers.
Knapsack straps	Ten terrified tomcats tottering in the tops of three tall trees.
Men munch much mush	Which wristwatches are Swiss wristwatches?
Black bug's blood	Six thick thistle sticks. Six thick thistles stick.
Rush the washing, Russell!	Unique New York
Specific Pacific	Rubber baby buggy bumpers
One smart fellow, he felt smart. Two smart fellows, they felt smart. Three smart fellows, they all felt smart.	Slippery southern snakes slide swiftly down ski slopes